Leading brands such as Mercedes-Benz, Distar Tech and Goodtemp have confirmed their participation in the “Bus and Truck ’17” commercial vehicle show, which is scheduled for November 2-4 at Bitec.

This will be the 14th holding of the event, with a total show area of 15,000 square metres this year.

Exhibits include commercial vehicles as well as parts and systems such as air-conditioning and entertainment systems.

Exhibitors will be offering special sales campaigns during the three-day show, which also serves as a lucrative sales ground for manufacturers and retailers.

According to organiser TTF International, the event will feature the latest technologies in the commercial vehicle industry, and allows manufacturers and customers, such as those from the transportation sector, to increase the chances of doing business together.

Mercedes-Benz (Thailand) said it would display three models – the 917 bus, its Sprinter van and the new Actros trailer head.

Meanwhile, Distar Tech, which took part last year and was highly successful with its Cloud Server products, is expecting even more visitors to its booth this time around.

Goodtemp will be displaying refrigerated containers and bus air-conditioners.
